

Putu Suarcaya

About

Putu Suarcaya is a teaching staff member at the graduate school, Universitas Pendidikan Ganesha. He is currently a secretary to the ELE graduate programme. His research interests are teacher professional development, ELT, and literary critic.

Education

UT, Graduate programme, Technology Application in Education and Training

UM, Doctorate programme, English education

Publication

Suarcaya, P., & Prasasti, W.D. (2017). Investigating students' critical reading: Critical literacy in EFL setting. E-FLT Journal, 14(2), 220-232.

Prasasti, W. D., & Suarcaya, P. (2018). Romanticism and Nostalgia from Afar: Signification of Home for a Political Exile in Leila S. Chudori's "Home". Forum for World Literature Studies, 10(3), 493-509.

Prasasti, W. D., & Suarcaya, P. (2020). Paradoxical Significance of Living in the New Promised Land in Khalid Hosseini's The Kite Runner: A Place to Bury or Mourn Memories? Asiatic: IIUM Journal of English Language and Literature, 14(1), 56-70.

Suarcaya, P. (2021). Deconstructing EFL teacher roles. The Journal of Asia TEFL, 18(3), 1032-1039.

Contact

 A. Yani 67
Singaraja

 +6236221541

 p.suarcaya@undiksha.ac.id