Accounting and Accountability in Emerging Economies (AAEE)
4th Biennial Conference and Emerging Scholars Colloquium 2025
Bali, Indonesia

The Accounting and Accountability in Emerging Economies* (AAEE) Conference will provide a high-profile forum for academics, policy makers, research students and other key stakeholders to discuss issues relating to, and deepening and broadening knowledge of, the role accounting and accountability in emerging economies; and to build and consolidate a network of active institutions, scholars and policy makers involved in accounting, accountability and global development research. This year's theme is "Sustainable Development and Accountability in Emerging Economies."

The Conference welcomes research papers using diverse methodological and theoretical approaches which highlight their policy and practical implications. Further, it seeks to engage researchers, policy makers, consultants and development scholars in generating ideas on how accounting and accountability can enhance economic and social development. The conference is hosted in Indonesia for the first time, in collaboration with Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM) and Udayana University, and in association with the Centre for Accountability and Global Development, University of Essex.

To present a study at the Conference, full papers must be submitted through the Conference's online submission portal. Kindly note that a CMT account should be created prior to submitting a full paper and that abstracts or extended abstracts will not be accepted as valid submissions. The Conference is supported by the Journal of Accounting in Emerging Economies (JAEE – Scopus Q1). In due course, participants can submit to the journal if they wish their papers to be considered for a regular issue of the Journal. The Conference is also supported by the Journal of Indonesian Economics and Business (JIEB – Scopus Q3), published by the Faculty of Economics and Business, Universitas Gadjah Mada. To present a study at the Emerging Scholars Colloquium (ESC), submissions should be sent to ESC.AAEE@essex.ac.uk. These submissions may take the form of full papers, abstracts, or extended abstracts.

Keynote Speakers

Christopher Napier

Christopher Napier is Emeritus Professor of Accounting at Royal Holloway University of London. He retired in 2024 after a 45-year academic career, including appointments at the London School of Economics and the University of Southampton, where he gained his PhD. Christopher qualified as a Chartered Accountant in 1978, and for several years he was a member of Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales. His research interests include accounting history, accounting theory, corporate financial reporting, accountability and governance, and Islamic accounting, and he has written or edited over 120 books, book chapters and peer-reviewed journal articles.

Susela Devi Suppiah

Professor Dr. Susela Devi Suppiah has a career spanning over 40 years in the accounting and education sector with significant regional as well as global engagement in the ASEAN and Asia Pacific regions. She served as Director of Sunway Centre for Environmental Social Governance, before her retirement from Sunway University in August 2024. She also served as Module Leader for Sustainable Management and Operations course within the Masters in Sustainable Development Management program offered by Sunway University. In these challenging emerging trends in sustainability, she engaged extensively (curating the module) with industry experts, bringing use cases to the topics covered.

Anggito Abimanyu

Dr. Anggito Abimanyu is a renowned economist and Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM) professor who currently serves as Indonesia's Deputy Minister of Finance. Throughout his career, Anggito has held notable positions, including Head of the Fiscal Policy Agency, Director General of Hajj and Umrah Management, Commissioner of Bank BRI Syariah, and Head of the Hajj Financial Management Agency. His work in fiscal policy, Islamic finance, and public finance has contributed to Indonesia's economic stability and improved public services. He is also known for his research and teaching in Islamic finance, energy economics, and public finance, which have led to his involvement in many seminars and economic discussions.
